

Instead of trying to stifle XM radio, perhaps public radio stations should try to raise themselves up to the quality of programming that XM provides.